

Parabolic Flight Experiment

Parabolic flights allow for research of granular materials under microgravity conditions. In this experiment the dampening properties of excited granular matter are investigated.

