Public Outreach

An important part of academic research is public outreach. At science fairs like "Die Lange Nacht der Wissenschaften" experiments are shown and explained to the public. Here an experimental setup used in a parabolic flight campaign is filmed by a camera crew. This experiment measured the dampening properties of granular media.

